

GLOBAL WEALTH CREATOR RETURNS TO INSPIRE AUSTRALIAN ENTREPRENEURS AND INVESTORS

Robert Kiyosaki, one of the world's leading entrepreneurs and financial forecasters, is returning to Australia to explain the future of money and how to generate wealth in a fast-changing world.

Kiyosaki, a self-proclaimed troublemaker who is the author of the number one personal finance book of all time, Rich Dad Poor Dad (26 million copies), will headline the Wealth Masters Australian Tour in Sydney, Brisbane and Melbourne in August.

Kiyosaki and his team of specialists will explain how to generate multiple streams of income before the global financial hurricane he is predicting arrives; how the rich grow wealth through debt and taxes; what you must know about cryptocurrency; how the government is stealing your savings; raising venture capital to fund your dream; and much more.

“There are four core areas you must know to fast-track your wealth – business, online, property and trading – and right now is your best opportunity to start a successful business,” says Kiyosaki, who provocatively advises everyone to get their money out of the banks.

“Start-ups must know that if you don't have an online presence, you really don't have a business, because the Internet offers the ultimate way to turn your passion into profit. I will explain why there has never been a better time to invest in real estate, and also examine the rise of cryptocurrencies. Trading in them can turn into an asset – or a dangerous liability if you don't know what you're doing.”

Robert returns with Kim Kiyosaki, entrepreneur, investor and author of Rich Woman, and four other guest speakers: Australian Amazon expert Adam Hudson, who has built several multimillion-dollar companies in Australia and the USA; Garrett Sutton, an expert with 35 years' experience in asset protection strategies; Andy Tanner, an investor mentor with students in more than 105 countries; and Tom Wheelwright, a worldwide authority on taxes who has devised innovative tax, business and wealth strategies for investors and business owners for three decades.

Michael Lane, Managing Director of Success Resources Australia, who is staging the Wealth Masters Australian Tour, says: “Robert Kiyosaki is a master in the game. Business opportunities are everywhere, but to capitalise and fast track your wealth you must develop your most valuable skills, your mindset and vision, and no one understands how to do that better than him.

“Money doesn't make people rich – knowledge does. Robert and his fellow coaches will show Australian entrepreneurs, business owners, retirees and anyone looking for investments to maximise their income, how to tap into the knowledge they need.”
